FANG-related places to work outside Cornell

compiled by the Food, Agriculture and Nutrition Grads Group (FANG-Grads)

Institution	Weblink	FANG member contact & e-mail for more information	Additional information
Universities
Michigan State University	www.msu.edu		(and other land grant universities)
Tufts University (Agriculture, Food, and the Environment program; New Entry Sustainable Farming project)	http://nutrition.tufts.edu/1177953852962/Nutrition-Page-nl2w_1178370556099.html	Anna Herforth (awh6@cornell.edu)
University of Guelph	http://www.uoguelph.ca/
United Nations Organizations
Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO)	www.fao.org	Emily Levitt (EJL5@cornell.edu)
UNICEF	www.unicef.org	Emily Levitt (EJL5@cornell.edu)	In nutrition units, framework incorporates food, health and care components of malnutrition reduction.
CGIAR System
Consultative Group on International Agriculture Research (CGIAR)	www.cgiar.org
International Food	www.ifpri.org	Prof. Per Pinstrup-Andersen

Policy Research Institute (IFPRI)		pp94@cornell.edu
International Potato Center (CIP)	www.cipotato.org
The International Livestock Research Institute (ILRI)	www.ilri.org	Alice Pell (ap19@cornell.edu)	Based in Nairobi… has a group of researchers interested in integration of livestock, nutrition and public health issues.
AVRDC (The World Vegetable Center)	www.avrdc.org	Anna Herforth (awh6@cornell.edu)
International Center for Agricultural Research in the Dry Areas (ICARDA)	www.icarda.org	Peter Hobbs (ph14@cornell.edu)
CIAT/ HarvestPlus project	www.ciat.cgiar.org/webciat	Prof. Jere Haas (jdh12@cornell.edu)
International Center for Underutilized Crops (ICUC)	www.icuc-iwmi.org
Foundations/ Sponsoring institutions
Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation	www.gatesfoundation.org
Rockefeller Foundation	www.rockfound.org
McKnight Foundation funded projects	www.mcknight.org	Rebecca Nelson (rjn7@cornell.edu); Kelly Lindsay (kal44@cornell.edu)
International Development Research Centre, Ottawa, Canada	www.idrc.ca

Non-Governmental Organizations
CARE International	www.care.org
Helen Keller International	www.hki.org	Emily Levitt (EJL5@cornell.edu)
HealthBridge		Peter Berti (pberti@healthbridge.ca) Andy Jones (adj23@cornell.edu)
World Neighbors	www.wn.org	Andy Jones (adj23@cornell.edu)
World Vision International	www.wvi.org or www.worldvision.org/	Carlos Piedrasanta (CPiedras@worldvision.org)
Partners In Health	www.pih.org	Erica Philips (elp28@cornell.edu)	Trying to get this started
Save the Children/US	www.savechildren.org	Anna Herforth (awh6@cornell.edu)
SUSTAIN	www.sustaintech.org
Plan Ghana	http://www.plan-international.org/wherewework/westafrica/ghana/
"NGOs"	Some NGOs are trying to integrate these three sectors within their food security divisions, but programming is mostly funded by food aid and therefore quite limited.
U.S. Government
USDA/ USDA-foreign agricultural service	www.usda.gov, www.fas.usda.gov
USAID	www.usaid.gov		Title XII CRSPs did a good job of this over the last 25 years. For example the Small Ruminant=>Global Livestock=>Animal Source Foods CRSP.

			Elements of and participants in the old Nutrition CRSP have blended into this one over the last 10 years, but it always have a human nutrition and household impact emphasis. Likely many NGOs that implement food security & nutrition projects (see USAID title II cooperating sponsors).

Where jobs are advertised in Canada (provided by FANG member Peter Berti):

Many Canadian NGOs, including Micronutrient Initiative and World Vision (who have a big (10+) nutrition team), advertise on Charity Village: http://www.charityvillage.com

Most faculty positions in Canada will be advertised at University Affairs: http://www.universityaffairs.ca/

Canadian Federal Government jobs are advertised at: https://psjobs-emploisfp.psc-cfp.gc.ca/psr/applicant/applicant.helpcareerchoices?toggleLanguage=en&psrsMode=1